Refund Policy

The NACHO Music Society (the “Society”) is a non-profit volunteer-run organization that supports a beginners’ chamber orchestra in the community. To serve the purposes stated in our Constitution and Bylaws and operate a financially viable program, generally we must maintain sufficient membership during a term to meet program expenses that include paying our Music Director and covering other fixed costs of rent and insurance.

The goal of our Refund Policy is to accommodate reasonable unexpected changes in people’s plans. At the same time, the Society must meet financial commitments once a term program is underway, and our Refund Policy is designed to balance these two goals.

Policy

The Society reserves the right to cancel the memberships and practice sessions for a specified term if memberships drop below a financially sustainable number at the start of that term. In this case, the membership dues for that term will be fully refunded.

In the case where a member wishes to cancel their membership for a specified term, the written cancellation notice must be received by the Treasurer no later than at the start of the third practice session for the specified term. Membership dues, in this case, will be refunded, and at the Board’s discretion a $15.00 administration fee will be deducted from the refund.

In the case where a member wishes to cancel their membership for a specified term after the third practice session, no refund will be given for that term.
